A. BACKGROUND

The National Union of Soya Producers is structured from the village level to the national level and is composed of the departmental unions of soya producers (UDPS) constituted by the communal unions of soya producers (UCPS), constituted for their part by village cooperatives of soybean producers (CVPS) or village groups of soybean producers. UNPS is a member of the Federation of Producers' Unions of Benin (FUPRO-Benin) and the National Platform of Peasant and Agricultural Producers Organizations of Benin (PNOPPA-Benin). UNPS currently covers nine (09) departments (out of the 12 in Benin): Atacora, Donga, Borgou, Alibori, Zou, Collines, Couffo, Plateau and Atlantic) and thirty-two (32) communes. It totals twenty-three thousand seven hundred and thirty members (23,730) including 5750 women with more than 20% of young people.

The UNPS-Benin vision is that "By 2030, UNPS is in Benin and in the sub-region, the leader of the professional organizations of the soy sector, radiant in a spirit of good governance and equity for the well-being of producers". Its mission is defending the interests of the producers in promoting the soya sector through member capacity building, access to sustainable production factors, the development of market opportunities and advocacy at national and international level.
